Advanced Placement courses require intelligence, insight, self-discipline, dedication, good attendance, problem-solving skills, critical thinking and diligence. Taking one or more AP courses and being part of The Coronado Academy of Advanced Placement is a commitment on my part: a commitment to excellence.

AP courses require additional time beyond the standard high school course, and I am prepared to prioritize my obligations in order to allow for the rigor of the courses in The Coronado Academy of Advanced Placement. The required international AP exams are administered in the spring, and I am committed to the necessary preparation and participation. Dropping an Advanced Placement course is NOT an option. There may be periods when difficult material is being presented, and I will continue to work to the best of my ability and seek assistance as necessary.

The Coronado Academy of Advanced Placement requires students to meet the qualifications of an Advanced Honors Diploma as well as the completion of a minimum of one core Advanced Placement class per year as part of a total of six Advanced Placement courses by the end of senior year.
